This 56,000 sq. ft. manufacturing facility of fiberglass products includes 5,500 sq. ft. of office area with a mezzanine above. Two chemical storage rooms were built with a specially-designed explosion blow-off roof system. The building components consisted of a combination of structural and pre-engineered steel with a block and EFIS façade. The job was a fast-paced project because it had to be completed in 4½ months from start to completion.
